St. Luke's South Shore recognizes service

Lori Magestro was the randomly selected Service Provider of the Month. She was nominated by Janet Pflanzer, radiology. Here's what Janet wrote:

It is my department's responsibility to transport the patients. Lori has repeatedly helped me get patients to the department and helped me move them. She has also gotten patients into wheelchairs and on to carts, then called to say they were ready. She did not have to do that.

It is greatly appreciated. She does everything with a smile.

The Big Storm Awards are named for the outstanding service provided at SLSS to a couple stranded by a major snow storm. To nominate a St. Luke's South Shore employee, volunteer or medical staff member, fill out a nomination form obtained from your department, human resources or administration. Send the completed form to Jane Wagner, administration.

Sinai Samaritan Medical Center's NICU reunion

Sinai Samaritan Medical Center held a reunion of former neonatal intensive care nursery (NICU) patients in September. More than 200 NICU graduates attended with their parents and siblings. The reunion is an opportunity to mark the important progress made by these children born as very sick and very tiny babies. The NICU at Sinai Samaritan cares for 300-400 premature babies every year. The nursery uses a philosophy of family-centered developmental care to allow for optimum intellectual, emotional, psychological and physical development.

It is greatly appreciated. She does everything with a smile.

Play volleyball!

Volleyball season is here. Aurora employees are invited to play in one of four leagues, each with six teams, organized through the sports office of the Milwaukee Public Schools. Each team needs a minimum of six players, but nine to 10 players are better, to allow for absence or illness. It’s a mixed league and every team must include men and women, who may be employees, or family and friends of employees.

Weekly games begin in December and go through February or March with breaks when the schools are on vacation. Games are held at 7, 8 or 9 p.m., Mondays at Juneau High School, 6415 W. Mount Vernon, or Tuesdays or Thursdays at Sholes Jr. High, 4965 S. 20th. Times rotate according to the league schedule. One of the two Thursday night leagues is competitive, the five other leagues are more social in nature.

Team captains may register their teams in the human resources offices at St. Luke’s Medical Center, St. Luke’s South Shore, Sinai Samaritan Medical Center or West Allis Memorial Hospital. After the registration is accepted, team captains will receive an information packet. Fees are $10 per person for City of Milwaukee residents; $20 for non-residents. Call Kathy Otto, St. Luke’s South Shore, 489-4024, with questions.

- United Way makes sure the money you give is well spent. United Way is the mutual fund of charitable giving. Knowledgeable volunteers invest your dollars where they will have the greatest impact.

- Through United Way you are helping the people who really need help—enabling them to improve themselves and, in turn, improve our community.

- Your United Way donation works right here in your community. When you contribute to United Way, your donation goes far, but not far away.

- United Way keeps fund-raising costs low, so nearly all your contribution goes to community charities. Nearly 90 cents of each dollar goes directly to fund programs, a record that stands among the best in the country.

The Salvation Army is grateful to West Allis Memorial Hospital employees for their generous donations of school clothes and supplies for children of families that suffered losses in this summer's flood. Spearheading the effort at WAMH was Nancy Rhodes, RN.
