Cardiac rehab program certified

Sandy Zemke, cardiac rehab supervisor for the Metro Region, and her manager, Lynn Fischer, program manager of Metro Region's cardiac services, are proud to represent one of the first cardiac rehab programs in the United States to earn the new certification from the American Association of Cardiovascular and Pulmonary Rehabilitation.

“So far, only 293 programs out of thousands nationwide are certified, and we’re one of the few multi-site programs to be certified,” Sandy says. “The certification measured our program against essential standards of care.

New weight loss program offered

A seven-week weight management program aimed at people who want to lose 25 to 30 pounds will be offered at the new Aurora Health Center in New Berlin.

“Healthy Balance: Weight Management Program” is not about stepping on a scale and weighing in each week. It is designed to help patients safely make lifestyle changes necessary to establish life-long weight management through balanced nutrition and activity, explains Robbie Carlson, clinic administrator.

The program’s multidisciplinary team of experts includes a registered dietitian, exercise therapist, clinical psychologist and registered nurse, all of whom work at the Aurora Health Center in New Berlin.

Get the credit you’ve earned – the Earned Income Tax Credit

The Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) means extra cash in the pockets of many workers. But many people who are eligible for the credit don’t get it. Why? Because in order to get the tax credit, you must file a tax return. Some workers earn so little that they legally don’t have to file. By not filing, they are missing out on money they’re entitled to receive – possibly as much as $3,756.

The EITC is a special tax break for lower-income workers. It’s a refundable credit that reduces the tax some workers owe and may give them refunds. A unique feature of the credit is that you can get it even if you don’t owe the IRS any tax or have no tax taken out of your paychecks. In fact, you can get the credit even if your earnings are so low that you legally don’t have to file a tax return.

The credit is based on the amount of income earned and the number of qualifying children a worker has. A qualifying child can be a son or daughter, adopted child, grandchild, stepchild or foster child. Workers without a qualifying child can also get the credit.

To qualify, workers must have earned income from wages or self-employment. The 1998 income limits (based on qualifying children) and the maximum credit levels are as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Qualifying children</th>
<th>Income must be less than</th>
<th>Maximum credit</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Two or more</td>
<td>$30,095</td>
<td>$3,756</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>One qualifying child</td>
<td>$26,473</td>
<td>$2,771</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>No qualifying child</td>
<td>$10,030</td>
<td>$341</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Workers with no qualifying child must also be at least age 25 and under 65, not be eligible to be claimed as a dependent on someone else’s tax return and must have a main home in the United States for more than half the year. All workers claiming the credit cannot have more than $2,300 in investment income, such as interest or dividends, and cannot be a qualifying child on someone else’s return. Special rules may apply to U.S. military personnel, non-resident aliens and divorced couples who have dependents.

While the IRS wants people who are eligible for the credit to claim it, they are also cautioning taxpayers who claim the credit to be certain they qualify. Due to new tax legislation, people who aren’t eligible for the credit – but claim it anyway – could be prohibited from taking the credit for up to 10 years.

For information on the Earned Income Tax Credit, call the IRS at (800) 829-1040. You also can order a free copy of Publication 596, in English or Spanish, by calling the IRS at (800) TAX-FORM or by visiting the IRS web site at www.irs.ustreas.gov

(Reprinted from “Helpful hints from the IRS.” The W-5 forms to claim the Earned Income Tax Credit are available through the Human Resources and Payroll Departments throughout the Metro Region.)

Topics for week one through seven include: Balanced Nutrition, Getting Physical, Healthy Cooking, Short Circuiting Stress, “New Trition” (the newest supplements and health foods), Holistic Living and Special Occasions (dining out and social gatherings).

The program will be held on seven Thursdays from 6 to 7:30 p.m. April 15 through May 27. The fee is $99. Call (888) 863-5502 to register.

Shoulder Symposium 1999

The Sports Medicine Institute and the Marquette University Physical Therapy Program will present Shoulder Symposium 1999 April 16 to 18.

Physical therapists, physical therapy assistants, athletic trainers, physicians and physician assistants are invited to attend. Participants will gain knowledge and hands-on skills for the evaluation, prevention and rehabilitative treatment of shoulder dysfunction and injury. For information, call the Sports Medicine Hotline at 219-7776, or (800) 219-7776.
Aurora's United Performing Arts Fund campaign to run from March 15 to 26

The performing arts in Milwaukee are made possible in part through the support of thousands of people who donate to the United Performing Arts Fund (UPAF). Ticket prices typically cover less than half of what is needed to maintain our area's outstanding performing arts groups.

Aurora Health Care employees will be asked to help support the 1999 UPAF campaign March 15 to 26, according to Marcia Martin, who works in behavioral health services at St. Luke's South Shore. Marcia is leading the fund drive.

This year's campaign features a challenge grant. Employees who have contributed to UPAF in the past and who increase their contribution this year, or any new contributor to UPAF, will have their contributions matched by an anonymous donor, dollar for dollar.

Everyone who contributes to the campaign will be entered into a drawing for prizes. The drawing will be April 7. The grand prize is a $350 gift certificate to the Black Wolf Lodge in Wisconsin Dells. Second prize is a $100 gift certificate to Coerper's Five O'clock Restaurant, plus four tickets to the Florentine Opera. Gifts to UPAF may be made by cash, check or payroll deduction.

UPAF members include First Stage Milwaukee, Milwaukee Repertory Theater, City Ballet Theatre, Milwaukee Musical Theatre, Ko-Thi Dance Company, Florentine Opera Company, Milwaukee Dance Theatre, Bel Canto Chorus, Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra, Next Act Theatre, Milwaukee Chamber Theatre, Great Lakes Opera Company, Milwaukee Youth Symphony Orchestra, Danceworks, Skylight Opera Theatre, Present Music, Milwaukee Ballet Company, Theatre X, Milwaukee Chamber Orchestra, Milwaukee Public Theatre, and Wild Space Dance Company. UPAF awards grants to other arts groups as well.

Metro Region cardiac rehab program certified

The typical patient attends cardiac rehab three times a week for six to 12 weeks after being discharged from the hospital for a cardiac event, such as open heart surgery, angioplasty or heart attack. The region’s cardiac rehab sites also allow patients who have completed that program to participate in cardiac rehab maintenance on a self-pay basis two times a week for as long as they like.

The primary goals of cardiac rehabilitation are prevention of future cardiac events and supporting a quick recovery to allow the patient to regain self-confidence and return to work and the activities of daily living.

The medical director of the Metro Region Cardiac Rehabilitation Program is cardiologist Samuel Wann, MD.
Representatives of Aurora’s Metro Region sites often are quoted in the media on a variety of health care topics. Here’s a partial list of recent interviews:

Feb. 13  Dr. John Whitcomb of the St. Luke’s Medical Center emergency department was interviewed about influenza by Channel 4.

Feb. 12  A new stroke drug was the topic of a Channel 4 interview with Dr. Arvind Ahuja, a neurosurgeon at St. Luke’s Medical Center.

Feb. 10  Children and sudden cardiac death were discussed by Dr. Anwer Dhala, an electrophysiologist, with Channel 4 in response to the deaths of two high school athletes.

Feb. 1    Pharmacist Kate Rekowski, whose pharmacy is at the Aurora Health Center in New Berlin, talked with Channel 4 about prescription interaction dangers.

Jan. 29  Vicki George, Metro Region vice president/chief nurse executive, and Audrey Blumenfeld, manager of the Karen Yontz Women’s Cardiac Awareness Center, talked with the Business Journal about women’s marketing initiatives.

Jan. 28  Dr. Michael Katzoff, of Hartford Memorial Hospital, talked with the West Bend Daily News about the Sleep Disorders Center.

Jan. 28  Dr. Joseph Geenen, a gastroenterologist, talked with Channel 4 about a study of pancreatitis being conducted at St. Luke’s Medical Center.

Jan. 28  The Journal Sentinel ran a story about the Women’s Series being sponsored by Sinai Samaritan Medical Center and the Jewish Community Center.

Jan. 22  Dr. Tanvir Bajwa, a cardiologist at Sinai Samaritan Medical Center, was interviewed by Channel 4 about the role of genetics in patients with coronary artery disease.

Service Awards

February recipients of the St. Luke’s South Shore Big Storm Award are (from left) Lori Best, social services; Mary Ann Degenhardt, 3MESG; and Curt Finger, environmental services. The Big Storm Award recognizes outstanding service.

Grief teleconference is moderated by Cokie Roberts

A program titled “Living with Grief: At Work, At School, At Worship” will be offered from 12:30 to 3 p.m. April 14 at St. Luke’s Medical Center’s Stemke Auditorium.

Sponsored locally by the hospice program of the Visiting Nurse Association of Wisconsin and the VNA’s Milwaukee Hospice Home Care and Residence, the teleconference, which originates from the East Coast, will be moderated by ABC News correspondent Cokie Roberts.

“Living with Grief” will feature experts who explore the ways in which grief influences us in various settings. People often discuss how they grieve, but rarely consider the places where they grieve.

Participants will learn how to help families and caregivers cope with grief and loss.

There is no charge to attend. Registrations will be taken after March 15. Call 647-6335.
Neurosurgical inpatient unit being developed

Plans are under way for the new neurosurgical unit on 6GHJ at St. Luke’s Medical Center. The new unit is expected to open during the second quarter of 1999. The unit will be in space previously occupied by the subacute unit.

The neurosurgical inpatient unit will have the capability of providing 24-hour nursing care throughout the continuum, and is geared toward patients recovering from procedures or having diagnoses that include cerebral edema, craniotomy, spine surgery, acoustic neuroma, cerebral aneurysm, brain tumor, cerebral angiogram, stereotactic radiosurgery, brain biopsy, intercranial hemorrhage, arteriovenous malformation and specialty treatment options for Parkinson’s disease or seizure disorders.

In addition, ischemic or hemorrhagic stroke patients who have received appropriate medication or surgical treatment also will be part of the patient population on this unit.

Telemetry monitoring will be available, and nurses will be certified to perform NIH stroke screenings.

When construction of the unit is completed, the total number of beds is expected to be approximately 30. Employment opportunities on the new neurosurgical unit are available for nurses, nursing assistants, patient service associates and health unit coordinators.

Employees who have questions or would like additional information may call Linda Ahrens, interim patient care manager, at 385-4883.

Refresher tours offered

Can’t keep track of department moves? Do you ever wonder which new construction projects are starting now? If so, get a fresh look at St. Luke’s Medical Center through our “refresher tour” and information packet. Tours begin at noon March 25 and take place on the last Thursday of each month. Each tour takes only about 20 minutes. Anyone interested in attending should meet at the main entrance.

If you can’t find the time to go along on a refresher tour, request a “What’s Happening” packet, so you can be in the know when someone asks you a question such as “What’s happening?” or “Where is that department moving to?” To request a packet, call Trish Slack in Service Management at 649-6147.

When you are traveling through the halls of St. Luke’s, it’s always good to know what’s up ahead, so you don’t fall into the dreaded black hole of “I don’t know.”

Golden Sneaker Award

Here are the Golden Sneaker nominees for the month of February:

Bob Hagemeyer, Plant Operations
Jim Sawyer, Van Services
Darwyn Green, Facility Services
Dr. John Kim, Family Practice Resident
Mary Schigoda, 4EF
Karen Brubakken, 4EF
Bruce Dooley, Circulatory Dynamics Lab
Marian Cavetta, Volunteer

Bob Hegemeyer, Plant Operations, was selected as the Golden Sneaker recipient for February. His nomination read: “Bob has been very helpful in facilitating the delivery of St. Luke’s and Aurora employee donations for the annual volunteer employee food drive. His willingness and hard work have been greatly appreciated for several years, especially this year when he had to receive the early donations at the St. Luke’s dock by himself unexpectedly.”

Physicians and nurses volunteer in Haiti

A group of St. Luke’s physicians and nurses recently volunteered their time as part of an annual medical mission to Haiti to provide health care services. They included: Chris Storm, RN; Christine Schedler, RN; Dr. John Brusky; Dr. Steve Dankle; Dr. Jack Pope; Gina Menyah, RN; Dr. Don Hackbarth; and Dr. Meghan Warren.

The delegation from St. Luke’s spent a week in Leogane, Haiti, about 30 miles from Port-au-Prince. Dr. Brusky and his wife spent two weeks there. This team of health care providers delivered a variety of medical services, and St. Luke’s donated medical supplies.

Mardi Gras festivities a hit at St. Luke's

St. Luke's Medical Center celebrated Mardi Gras Day in the employee cafeteria on Fat Tuesday, Feb. 16. The event included Mardi Gras decorations, beads and a special menu. The menu featured Cajun favorites such as jambalaya, okra and hush puppies. Aurora's very own Chef Tom Wild, with the assistance of Cafeteria Coordinator Jeff Gavitt and Cook Jeanne Roehl, provided cooking demonstrations throughout the day and evening. More than 500 servings of shrimp creole were served to employees! The Food Management staff says a sincere thank you to employees for all of the wonderful comments received throughout the day.

Hall closing announced

Employees are reminded that the Diagnostic and Treatment Center is participating in live transmissions of gastrointestinal procedures to the auditorium. During these live transmissions, the second floor hallway between the Center and Schroeder elevators will be closed. The hallway will be closed from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. March 20. Please use the first floor hallway during this time.

Discounted Admirals tickets

The Sports Medicine Institute of Aurora Health Care and the Milwaukee Admirals invite all St. Luke's Medical Center employees, physicians, volunteers and their families to "Aurora Nights with the Admirals" at the Bradley Center. All Aurora staff are eligible for discounted tickets for the games at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, March 17, against the Fort Wayne Komets; at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, March 20, against the Chicago Wolves; and at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 17 against the Indianapolis Ice.

The Aurora discount for these games is $4 per seat, bringing ticket costs down to $10 and $6. Tickets need to be ordered in advance. Please pick up a form from the Human Resource Department at St. Luke’s.

As the sports medicine provider for the Milwaukee Admirals for the past eight years, Aurora's Sports Medicine Institute offers the advice and care of team physicians, physical therapists and athletic trainers to players and coaches before, during and after the season. Services include pre-season conditioning and physicals, injury prevention and treatment and nutrition counseling.

Dry cleaning services offered

Convenient, drop-off cleaning and laundry services are available at St. Luke’s Medical Center for employees, volunteers and physicians. The service is provided by Wolf Cleaners. Here's how it works: Drop off your items to be cleaned on the first floor directly across from the Gift Shop. Order forms, price sheets and plastic bags for clothing to be cleaned are available at the unattended pickup/drop off site.

Wolf Cleaners picks up and delivers at St. Luke’s Medical Center every Monday, Wednesday and Friday. If your order is placed on Monday, it will be ready for you to take home on Wednesday. Items dropped off on Wednesday will be ready on Friday, and so on. If your order includes alterations or repairs, it will take longer.

On your first order, complete the form for billing. After that, you need only put your name on the order slip. Bill are sent to your home address monthly.

Wolf’s offers a 30% discount on all dry cleaning and laundry through the month of March. Beginning April 1, competitors’ coupons will be accepted and can be attached to your order slip. Wolf’s also will offer monthly specials. Watch this newsletter for details.

In addition to full-service dry cleaning, Wolf’s offers shirt laundering and pressing, hand-finished lab coats, leather and suede cleaning, alterations, shoe repair and other services.

If you have questions, call Wolf Cleaners at 223-4078.

The Prenatal Care Coordination Program
The Prenatal Care Coordination (PNCC) program at Sinai Samaritan Medical Center cares for more than a thousand low-income, at-risk pregnant women each year. The program has been effective in reducing the incidence of prematurity, low-birth weight and infant mortality in the central city of Milwaukee since it was established in 1993.

Every month this year, PNCC will be asking Aurora employees to donate specific items that are needed by patients. In March, the needed items are infant sleepers and T-shirts; in April, toddler clothing; and in May, women's supplies, including lotions, soap and shampoo. Please send or deliver donations to room K4747 at Sinai Samaritan.

Check the Teamworks Bulletin Board in future issues for the kinds of items needed throughout the year.
